“Happy 4th of July
Independence Day

The Master is here, and is asking for you.” John 11:28
Do not be afraid. This is not an easy command which Our Lord gives in the Gospel today. It seems that devout Christians have very much to be afraid of. If we dare to speak out against the evils of this culture then we will be shouted at or even attacked. The attitude of relativism runs deep in secular society where everyone wants to be able to do whatever they think is right. This is often motivated simply by what feels good in the moment. We are called to reject such notions and, when invited by Our Loving Lord, to embrace our cross by pushing back against such chaos. We can reflect upon the example of St. John the Baptist. He bore witness, not to a subjective truth which we hear so often today “my truth”, but rather to the objective truth of Jesus Christ. He spoke how one ought to live so that they could enjoy the freedom and love of God to the greatest degree possible. For this conviction, he was thrown in prison for speaking against King Herod’s unlawful marriage and this ultimately led to his death.

What should we do when we are encouraged to approve of an illicit way of life? Should we endorse it out of fear of offending others? No, but neither ought we to berate those who have rejected the Christian life. Rather, with prudence and Christian love, we encourage others to seek after God. Seek Him who cares so deeply for us that He knows even the number of hairs on our head as we hear in the Gospel. We ought to invite others to seek Him who satisfies us entirely. As St. Augustine says: “Lord you made our hearts for yourself, therefore our hearts are restless till they rest in you.”

When we find those who obstinately reject Christ and have positions of authority over us, do not be afraid. This world is not our final reward, rather Heaven is our final reward. When we suffer persecution, we should praise God as St. John the Baptist did. He held fast to the Truth and it cost him his earthly life but won him an unfading crown of glory in Heaven. Know that God will care for our souls. So fear not whatever sort of evil is thrown in your way, but give God the glory and bind yourself to Him who is the Way, the Truth, and the Life.

Deacon Patrick DiLoreto
En algún momento de nuestra vida nos llegan problemas y dificultades. Porque la vida no es fácil; y ser cristiano mucho menos. Aceptar el compromiso como bautizados, ser fieles y leales a Jesús no es tarea fácil. Ser padres comprometidos con los hijos cuesta, ser buen trabajador y un estudiante que dé al cien implica darlo todo. La nueva cultura de la tecnología tan avanzada a veces hace sentir que estamos solos, que vamos contracorriente, si no tenemos lo último de la moda. Sin embargo, el Evangelio nos invita a tener confianza en Jesús, a ser fieles a él. Solo en él tendremos la
